DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the first gold layer [or the gold barrier layer] must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2832

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hopfer [US 3,812,438].

Hopfer discloses an inductor [figure 2] comprising:

- a coil form [58] having a conical portion with a tip;
- an integrated contact [58] disposed on the tip of the coil form; and
- an inductor coil [62] wound around the coil form and electrically coupled to the integrated contact.

Regarding claim 3, Hopfer discloses the integrated contact comprises a plated tip portion of the coil form.

Regarding claim 10, Hopfer inherently discloses the integrated contact has a radius not greater than 250 microns.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 5-11 and 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oldfield [US 6,509,821] in view of Hopfer.

Oldfield discloses an inductor [figures 5A-5B] comprising:

- a poly-iron coil form [4] having a conical portion; and

Art Unit: 2832

- an inductor coil [2] wound around the coil form.

Oldfield discloses the instant claimed invention except for an integrated contact.

Hopfer discloses an inductor [figure 2] comprising:

- a coil form [58] having a conical portion with a tip;
- grooves [60] formed on the coil form;
- an integrated contact [58] plated on the tip of the coil form, wherein the integrated contact has a radius not greater than 250 microns; and

- an inductor coil [62] wound around the coil form and electrically coupled to the integrated contact.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to include an integrated contact in the coil form of Oldfield, as suggested by Hopfer, for the purpose of facilitating connections and surface mounting.

Regarding claims 7, 11 and 16, it would have been obvious to solder the end of the inductor coil to the integrated contact for the purpose of providing strength to the electrical connection.

Regarding claims 6, 13 and 16, it would have been an obvious design consideration to include groove in the plated tip integrated contact, instead on the coil form, for the purpose of supporting end portion of the inductor coil and providing mechanical strength to the connections.

Regarding claims 8 and 14, Hopfer inherently discloses the inductor coil wound not more than one turn around the plated portion of the coil form.

Allowable Subject Matter

Art Unit: 2832

Claims 4 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
